

Bar Herbal

A mixture including perennial ryegrasses, white clover, plantain and chicory

Its main purpose is to extend the shoulders of the grazing season whilst enhancing the yield and the quality of the sward. The deep rooting characteristics of the herbs and legumes will enhance the mineral content of their companion grasses due to their ability to source nutrients from deep within the soil. This will also help with soil structure and therefore increase water infiltration, resulting in extra grazing days when compared to conventional perennial ryegrass mixtures.
